

Maria Fernanda Cestari de Cesar

Speech therapist from the Pontifical Catholic University of São Paulo in 2014;

Master's degree in Applied Linguistics and Language Studies from Applied Linguistics and Language Studies (LAEL/PUC-SP) in 2017;

Postgraduate in Hospital Speech Therapy from Albert Einstein Instituto Israelita de Ensino e Pesquisa in 2018;

Certified in the Treatment of Eating Difficulties by the Brazilian Society of Speech Therapy in 2022;

She took several courses, including:

Feeding The Whole Child a Mealtime Approach, Neurofunctional Chile;

When children don't want to eat: evaluation and treatment using S.O.S. Approach to Feeding, Neurofunctional Chile;

Get permission approach: from assessment to therapy, Brazil;

A.R.T Express Somatic Practices for Alignment and Resilience, Australia.

Author of the book: "Doesn't Francisco like to eat?" and the game: "Feeding Conversations"

